The area chapters of this volume comprise the statistical portions of previously published area reports (series BC63-RA). Errors found after the original publication of the reports have been corrected and carried to the cities and counties affected. Corrections have not been carried to the standard metropolitan statistical areas, States, etc., unless they significantly affect the data for such areas.

Introduction

AUTHORITY AND SCOPE—The Census of Business is required by law under 13 U.S.C., sections 131 and 224. The 1963 census covered businesses in retail trade, wholesale trade, selected services, dental laboratories, and public warehousing operated in the United States, Guam, and the Virgin Islands. A separate 1963 Census of Business and Manufactures for Puerto Rico was conducted jointly with the Commonwealth Government. The figures in this volume include those issued previously in the area reports, Series BC63-R. For definitions, see appendix A.

KINDS OF BUSINESS COVERED—Retail trade as defined in the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manual¹ includes all establishments primarily engaged in selling merchandise to personal, household, and farm users. In this report, it also includes liquor stores operated by State and local governments. Retail trade excludes post exchanges, ship stores, and other similar establishments operated on military posts by agencies of the Federal Government. A separate presentation of the data for such establishments is given in table 19 in the U.S. Summary chapter and table 8 in the State chapters of this volume. Data for administrative offices, warehouses, and other units which service and are auxiliary to retail establishments within the same organizations, also excluded here, will be presented in later reports. See Appendix A, Explanation of Terms, for definitions of the kind-of-business categories for which data are shown in this volume.

METHOD OF ENUMERATION—For purposes of coverage in the 1963 Census of Business, retail establishments were divided into two categories—those with some paid employment during 1963 (i.e., the “employer” universe) and those with no paid employment during 1963 (i.e., the “nonemployer” universe). The method of obtaining census information for these two groups is described below.

Enumeration of “Employers.”—Information for establishments with some paid employment during 1963 was obtained by means of a mail canvass. Report forms were mailed to all business firms included in the active records of the Internal Revenue Service as subject to payment of Federal Insurance Contributions Act (FICA) taxes (i.e., employers of one or more persons) and which were classified in the records of the Social Security Administration (SSA) as wholly or partially engaged in retail and wholesale trade, and in manufacturing and mineral industries. Also included were those classified in major groups 70 (except 702 and 704), 72, 73, 75, 76, 78, and 79 in the service industries portion of the SIC Manual; in SIC industry 8072, dental laboratories; and in public warehousing, SIC major group 42 (except 421). In addition, report forms were mailed to all establishments which the SSA had not classified by kind of business prior to mailing of census report forms. Each establishment was mailed a report form appropriate to its SSA classification (for those cases for which SSA classification had not yet been established, a general purpose form was used), but its census classification was determined by replies to questions on the census report form.

Enumeration of “Nonemployers.”—Information for this group of establishments was obtained from the 1963 Federal income tax returns of retail businesses other than those represented in the active FICA records of the Internal Revenue Service. Although made up of a large number of establishments, the nonemployer segment accounts for only about 5 percent of total retail sales.

Data were compiled from only one-half of the nonemployer tax returns and were multiplied by two to establish census totals. Only those establishments were included here which reported a sales volume of $2,500 or more during 1963, or, having been in operation for less than the full year, reported sales which would have reached a total of $2,500 or more on an annual basis.

COMPARISON OF THE 1958 CENSUS WITH THE 1963 CENSUS—In all major respects, the 1958 and 1963 censuses were conducted under similar conditions and procedures. Strict comparability of the data for the two censuses is limited by the following factors:

1. In 1958, Alaska and Hawaii had not yet been admitted as States. Consequently, in the publications of the 1958 census the totals for the United States included the then 48 States and the District of Columbia. In the 1963 census publications, the United States totals include the 50 States and the District of Columbia. Tables in the 1963 publications which show United States totals for 1958 have been adjusted to include Alaska and Hawaii.

2. The physical area of a number of urban places for which data are shown in the 1963 census is not the same as it was in the 1958 census because of annexations and other boundary changes which have occurred since 1958.

3. In the 1963 census, for the first time, nonemployer establishments which did not operate the entire year have been included if, during the period they operated, their receipts were at a rate which would have reached an annual total of $2,500 or more had they operated the entire year. This change increases the count of nonemployer establishments but has little effect on the total volume of sales.

4. The number of active proprietors shown in this volume is based on crediting each sole proprietorship with one active proprietor and each partnership with two active proprietors if the establishment was in operation during November 1963. In the 1958 census each business was asked to report this number.

5. In the 1963 census, information was collected on retail sales by merchandise lines. Such information had last been collected as part of the 1948 census. These data are published in Vol. I, Retail Trade—Summary Statistics, and in separate reports as part of the subject preprint series, BC63-RS. The information collected in the 1963 census includes broad merchandise lines for which all employer establishments were required to report and a variable number of additional lines more specifically oriented to a single kind of business or a group of related businesses. In addition to its primary use of making possible the presentation of data on the extent of diversification in retail establishments, this information was also used in assigning establishments to specific kinds of business.

6. The use of information on sales by merchandise lines in assigning kind-of-business codes has provided a more detailed basis for classification than previously was available. In some cases this could have resulted in classifications which were different than would have been assigned if the information available had been the same as in the 1958 census. In the 1963 census stores provided a breakdown by merchandise lines of all their sales rather than of major lines as in the 1958 census. In the women's apparel field, for example, such differences in the inquiries may have occasioned a shift in the classification of a number of stores from the kind of business "women's ready-to-wear stores" to "women's accessory, specialty stores." In addition, the introduction of this system made possible the segregation of the new category "home, auto supply stores" (see the section on "Kind-of-Business Classifications" in appendix A) from the category "tire, battery, accessory dealers."

7. Some changes were made in the 1963 census in the individual kind-of-business classifications which are detailed in appendix A. The kinds of business involved are:

- Meat markets
- General stores
- Tire, battery, accessory dealers
- Home, auto supply stores
- Eating places
- Refreshment places
- Optical goods stores
- Nonstore retailers

8. In 1963 a new method of determining the places in which business establishments were located was instituted. This method utilized high speed electronic computers and extensive files of addresses classified by place. It is believed that the major effect of this new procedure has been to correctly allocate to suburban places some establishments which previously had been allocated to adjacent cities because of a tendency of respondents to identify their location as being in the adjacent city although actually located beyond that city's boundaries. In those cases where this procedure has resulted in significant differences, the 1958 data included in the 1963 reports have been corrected or, if that was not feasible, appropriate notations made advising of the lack of comparability.

CENSUS DISCLOSURE RULES—In accordance with Federal law governing census reports, any data which disclose the operations of an individual establishment or business organization are not published. However, the number of establishments in a kind of business is not considered a disclosure, so that this item may appear in instances where other items of information for the same kind of business or locality are withheld.

TYPES OF AREAS COVERED—This volume presents data by kind of business for (1) the State as a whole, (2) each standard metropolitan statistical area, (3) each county, and (4) each "city" of 2,500 or more inhabitants. The term "city" for purposes of this report includes places having 2,500 or more inhabitants in the 1960 Census of Population (or later special censuses) and which were incorporated as cities, boroughs, villages, or towns (except towns in New England, New York, and Wisconsin which are not considered "incorporated places" for Census Bureau purposes). In addition, data are shown for the following areas not classified as "incorporated places":

1. Towns in the New England States which had an urban population, by Census of Population rules, of 2,500 or more inhabitants or which had a total population of 10,000 or more.

2. Townships in New Jersey and Pennsylvania which had 10,000 or more inhabitants.

The standard metropolitan statistical areas (SMSA's) for which data are shown are those defined by the Bureau of the Budget in 1964.² A standard metropolitan statistical area is a county or group of contiguous counties (except in New England) which contains at least one central city of 50,000 or more inhabitants or "twin cities" with a combined population of at least 50,000. In addition to the county or counties containing such a city or cities, contiguous counties are included in an SMSA if, according to certain criteria, they are essentially metropolitan in character and are socially and economically integrated with the central city. In New England, towns and cities rather than counties are the units used in defining an SMSA.

In addition to the above areas, data are presented for "Major Retail Centers" covering the central business districts (CBD's) of 113 cities which have a population of 100,000 inhabitants or more and approximately 1,000 major retail centers (other than CBD's) located in the SMSA's for which CBD data are shown. These data are published in Volume 3, Retail Trade—Major Retail Centers, and in separate reports as part of the preprint series BC63-MRC.
